ABOUT USICD

WHO WE ARE:

Through our vast network of disabled people’s organizations and international development colleagues, USICD has the reach to impact critical emerging issues facing the global disability community. USICD serves both as a technical resource and as a relationship builder to people with disabilities for NGO, government, and corporate partners. USICD’s 18-member Board of Directors includes the most recognized leaders in the American disability rights movement, providing a wealth of experience and strategic guidance. USICD implements projects that empower people with disabilities around the world through grassroots strategies, as well as national and international policy advocacy. The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) has had a global influence, and USICD promotes those values through global engagement and United States foreign affairs. The USICD community is leading the world on global disability rights.

OUR MISSION:

To advance international disability rights and inclusive development and to build bridges among the U.S. and foreign governments, disability and human rights communities, and the private sector through strategic advocacy, convening, and training and education.

OUR VISION:

USICD envisions a world where the rights of persons with disabilities are universally recognized and respected, where persons with disabilities are afforded full and equal participation in their communities, and where persons with disabilities are self-sufficient and live independent and self-determined lives.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Members and Friends of USICD,

USICD is a little jewel that has been shining for 30 years. That has been amazing. With a sense of vision, unwavering supporters, and powerful partnerships it has worked tirelessly to highlight, strengthen, and educate others about the rights and hopes of people with disabilities around the world.

In this report you will read about our activities over the last year, about seeds we have planted and successes in which we have shared.

USICD values being connected to its many partners. It is proud of its commitment to meaningful communication. It recognizes that needed change comes about and is sustained through collaboration. It knows that if we care enough each of us will find the way to help others, even in distant lands.

I have gained so much and feel so fortunate to have worked with USICD's Board and its Executive Director, Isabel Hodge. They know how to organize, inspire, persuade, and act in ways that matter.

I hope you will sustain your membership, urge others to join USICD, and engage with its priorities next year. We all have the same amount of time. Let's all carve out time next year to extend the reach of USICD, to expand its membership, and to fortify the ability of individuals with disabilities to participate fully in community life wherever they live.

Aloha,

Pat Morrissey

TREASURER'S REPORT

A community of funding and project partners has made USICD's work possible. General operating support and program grants for USICD's education activities have formed a core of USICD's grant funding.

An independent audit of USICD's 2021 financial statements conducted by AAL Certified Public Accountants found that all financial records were accurate and maintained in conformity with standard accounting principles accepted in the United States. A copy of this audit is available upon request.

Finance Committee: Jerry McCloskey, Chair and Treasurer; Susan Parker, James McCormick, Michael Brogioli

USICD has consistently seen a drop in membership since 2014 in both organizational and individual members. Membership particularly surged during the campaign for U.S. ratification of the CRPD with an increase in individual members. Membership today spans 26 states and the District of Columbia, and includes centers for independent living, academic departments, protection and advocacy organizations, international development actors, and a breadth of others who are all committed to the fundamental rights of persons with disabilities.
